Partner

Practice area

Intellectual property / information technology

Experience

Andrea Lensing-Kramer has been a partner since 1996 and works in our Duesseldorf office. She is a member of our intellectual property and information technology practice group and specialises within the field of intellectual property law particularly in trade mark law, unfair competition, information technology and media including licence and distribution agreements, product launches and related marketing campaigns, advertising clearance, IP-driven transactions and global trademark policy issues.

Andrea's experience includes contentious and non-contentious work. She is continuously involved in landmark German and EU trade mark matters including domain and internet-related disputes and other intellectual and unfair competition law cases. She regularly advises multinationals on a worldwide basis in trade mark policy issues and is a member of the International Trademark Association and one of its Committees.

Andrea was born in Bocholt (Germany) in 1963. She completed her legal education at the University of Cologne where she also obtained a doctor of laws degree (Dr iur). From 1985 to 1987 she was a research assistant at the University of Cologne. In 1988 she interned with our London office and was a stagiaire with the Legal Service of the European Commission in 1991. She is a member of the German (Duesseldorf) Bar.

Andrea joined the firm in 1992. She speaks German and English.
