

Suzanne Michel

Suzanne Michel is Deputy Director in the Office of Policy Planning at the Federal Trade Commission. She focuses on the patent and patent/antitrust issues that arise in the FTC's enforcement and policy work. Suzanne is currently heading the FTC's project on the "Evolving IP Marketplace." The FTC awarded her the Paul Rand Dixon award in 2002 and the Excellence in Supervision award in 2008. Before joining the FTC ten years ago, Suzanne worked in the Civil Division of the Department of Justice as a patent litigator.

Suzanne received her B.S. with honors from Northwestern University and her Ph.D. in Chemistry from Yale University. She graduated from Boalt Hall School of Law (University of California at Berkeley), where she was a member of the Order of the Coif and was awarded the prize for best paper published by a graduating student. Following law school, she served as a law clerk to the Honorable Paul R. Michel (no relation) at the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. She is a registered patent attorney.
