With over 30 years of experience in Intellectual Property, James Bollinger focuses his practice in the medical, electronics, computer science, and financial technologies fields. He has acted as lead trial counsel for a variety of patent and other IP disputes and has tried both cases to juries and judges. His practice involves matters in many diverse venues, including in the Western District of Wisconsin, the Northern District of Illinois, the Southern District of New York, and the Northern District of California. James has also represented several overseas clients in international forums on patent and IP matters. In addition to litigation, James actively advises and assists clients build and manage IP portfolios. Some of his Representative clients include Merrill Lynch, Cadbury, Barclays Capital, MIT, Yale University, BNP Paribas, MetLife, Rakuten, and Spire.

Recent successes for James include jury verdicts (i) of willful infringement in a patent case and (ii) invalidating all claims of a patent on both anticipatory and obviousness grounds. The Federal Circuit recently upheld the summary judgment ruling in a major patent case- again ruling the asserted patent claim invalid on both anticipatory and obviousness grounds.

James is admitted to practice in New York and Connecticut and before the Supreme Court of the State of New York, Appellate Div., 1st Dept.; the Supreme Court of the State of Connecticut; the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit; the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit; the United States Supreme Court and the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.
