

Cordula Tellmann-Schumacher, LL.M.

Cordula Tellmann-Schumacher is a partner of ARNOLD RUESS, a boutique IP firm in Düsseldorf, Germany. Prior to this, Ms. Tellmann has been with Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer LLP in Düsseldorf and Hong Kong, specializing in intellectual property law, namely patent litigation. She continuously advises national and international clients in patent infringement and validity proceedings and on license agreements, e.g. in the area of telecommunications, electronics, pharmaceuticals, mechanics and consumer goods. Several of these cases include anti-trust issues, e.g. FRAND and other licensing topics. She has been involved in several of the latest court decisions on FRAND in Germany.

The Düsseldorf Bar Association awarded her the title of “Fachanwalt” (certified specialist) for intellectual property law. Ms Tellmann is highly recommended for her area of expertise by major rankings including Chambers, Best Lawyers, Legal 500, IAM Patent and JUVE.

Ms Tellmann pursued her law and supplementary business studies at the Universities of Bayreuth and Cologne (Germany) and Hawaii Pacific (USA) and obtained a Diploma on European Law from the University Sorbonne-Panthéon, Paris I (France). She holds a Masters Degree in Intellectual Property Law from the Heinrich Heine University in Düsseldorf and speaks German, English, French and Spanish. She is, inter alia, a member of GRUR, EPLAW, LES and WIP.
